Programme Structure

To achieve the ilm Level 5 Qualification delegates are required to:

- Attend a one to one or group Induction
- Attend the selected Units to achieve the required Guided Learning Hours (GLH)
- Complete a tutorial for each of the chosen units (part of a full-day workshop)
- Submit the agreed assignment for each of the chosen units.

Individual Unit certification is provided allowing delegates to pace their learning and development over a time-scale to manage personal commitments and work pressures. Unit cohorts are also inter-changeable allowing a degree of flexibility in scheduling workshops and time to complete the qualification.

Delegates may upgrade their qualification from an Award to a Certificate within a 3 year period of registration by gaining additional credits to minimum value of 13.

ILM Membership

All registered candidates automatically become student members of the ILM for the duration of their programme. Designed to help candidates get the most from their course and advance their management career, studying membership gives access to a wide range of specialist support and development materials and serves. Successful completion of a Level 5 qualification provides eligibility for a minimum grade of Associate Membership (AMInstLM) of the Institute of Leadership and Management.

Bespoke In-house Programmes

Should you have eight or more candidates, an internal programme can be delivered for your organisation. Alternatively, if you have eight or more candidates and wish to select different optional units, a customised internal programme can be delivered for your organisation.

Pre-programme Assessments and one to one coaching session

To ensure the ilm Level 5 qualification is right for an individual's development and to identify the specific Units to provide a development opportunity, we offer a pre-programme and assessment and one to one coaching session. There is no charge for this service. It is in our interests to make sure we are recommending the right programme (level and Units) for the individual concerned.
